OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

28 November 1969

Mr. Mortimer M. Caplin, President
National Civil Service League
1028 Connecticut Avenue, N. W.
Washington, D. C. 20036

Dear Mort:

Thank you for your letter inviting me to submit nominations for the 16th Annual Career Service Awards of the National Civil Service League.

It is with extreme pleasure that I nominate Mr. Lawrence R. Houston, our General Counsel. The enclosed papers reflect the great responsibilities which Mr. Houston has carried throughout his Federal career and the truly outstanding manner in which he has met the repeated challenges. His contribution to me and my predecessors has been invaluable.

I recommend Mr. Houston without reservation as an individual who personifies every attribute associated with distinguished service.

Sincerely,

Richard Helms
Director

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Intelligence
Deputy Director for Plans
Deputy Director for Science and Technology
Deputy Director for Support

SUBJECT : National Civil Service League Career Service Award -- Mr. Lawrence R. Houston

1. I want to request your assistance in publicizing and encouraging attendance at the dinner honoring Lawrence R. Houston on 8 May 1970.
2. While the National Civil Service League (NCSL) has not established quotas for representative agencies, it has urged that a sincere effort be made to insure a meaningful turn-out. In similarly honoring Colonel White last year 136 individuals attended the awards banquet. It is hoped that we can maintain such participation this year and it is my firm belief that discussions at your staff meetings will give us the support needed.
3. The following basic facts are provided for your information.
  - a. A dinner honoring the winners of the NCSL Career Service Awards will take place at 7:30 p.m. Friday, 8 May 1970, at the Washington Hilton Hotel.
  - b. The dinner will be preceded by a reception and cash bar at 6:30 p.m.

c. The cost for government employees and their family members is $15.00 per ticket. Non-government persons will be charged $25.00 per ticket.

d. Reservations may be made for individual seating as well as tables for ten. Internal deadline for reservations is 23 April 1970.

e. Dress for the occasion is semi-formal -- business suits for the men, cocktail dresses for the women.

4. It is further requested that you select an individual who will be responsible for coordinating ticket reservations and payments for the

Directorate of Intelligence (Clandestine Service, etc.) with STATINTL

Chief, Benefits and Services Division, Office of Personnel.

We will need your representative's name by 13 April 1970 at which time

National Civil Service League
Career Service Awards

1. The National Civil Service League's Career Service Awards Program was initiated to strengthen the public service by bringing national recognition to significant careers in the Federal service. Each year the League grants awards to ten federal career employees who exemplify in an outstanding manner the primary characteristics of the career service.

2. Mr. Lawrence R. Houston, General Counsel, has been chosen for one of the ten awards granted by the National Civil Service League this year. In nominating Mr. Houston, the Director of Central Intelligence said in part, "During more than two decades of service, Mr. Houston has compiled a record of achievement so extraordinary that, joined with his devotion and thorough dedication, he has become a key adviser to me as to all other Directors of Central Intelligence. Unquestionably the effects of his panoramic contributions to the Agency and to our country will endure. They will remain as witness to his expertise, to his character, and to his superlative capacity in responding to the challenges of our national security and the dramatic times in which we live."

3. The following biographical sketch is presented to familiarize employees with the truly outstanding and unique career of Mr. Houston:

His career is inextricably bound to the history and success of the CIA and its predecessor organizations. After preparation for the legal profession, Mr. Houston was admitted to the Bar and joined the New York firm of White and Case in 1939. He was commissioned in the Army in 1944 and assigned to the Office of General Counsel, Office of Strategic Services. After the war he returned to OSS Headquarters and became involved in the preparatory planning for a centralized intelligence organization. Mr. Houston was the legal architect of the Central Intelligence Agency. He created the legislative design for the Agency that was incorporated in the National Security Act of 1947, and the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949. Mr. Houston has exercised a broad range of responsibilities involving legislation: responding to the requirements of Congress; responsibility of reviewing pending legislation to ensure that it would have no adverse impact upon the Agency's unique authorities; legal authority for the U-2 and the Francis Gary Powers episode - negotiations for his exchange and providing for a board of inquiry. titioner of "intelligence law."

As this Agency's first and only General Counsel, Mr. Houston has practiced two professions simultaneously: intelligence and law. Mr. Houston is the recipient of the Intelligence Medal of Merit.

Ambassador Goldberg, Honored Winners, Distinguished Guests,
Ladies and Gentlemen:

Mr. Helms has asked me to express his regrets that he is not able to be here this evening to introduce and honor a long-time colleague from the Central Intelligence Agency. I particularly enjoy acting for Mr. Helms on this occasion for I, too, have recognized in a fairly short period the outstanding character, skill, and devotion of this gentleman. During his 22 years with CIA as its first and only General Counsel, he has truly met the challenge of public service. I therefore consider it an honor and a privilege to introduce a man who has made a lasting contribution to the Central Intelligence Agency, and indeed, to our nation:

Lawrence R. Houston.

CITATION

Lawrence R. Houston, you are not only the prime mover in the field of "intelligence law" you are its most renowned practitioner. As an eminent and brilliant expert in this field, you laid the legal foundation for the Central Intelligence Agency.

Your long distinguished career, marked by exceptional ability, imagination, drive and dedication, is indeed an inspiration and guide for all young federal careerists.

Ambassador Goldberg, Honored Winners, Distinguished Guests,

Ladies and Gentlemen:

It gives me the greatest pleasure to introduce a man who has been a close friend for over twenty years. Our careers have run the same course, both of us entered the intelligence field during World War II through the Office of Strategic Services and we have worked closely together since that time. It is with deep affection and respect for his achievements and dedication that I present Lawrence R. Houston for this Career Service Award.

Ambassador Goldberg, Honored Winners, Distinguished Guests,
Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is a pleasure to speak for both Mr. Helms; who regrets not being able to attend, and myself in introducing and honoring a long-time colleague from the Central Intelligence Agency. It is sometimes difficult to impress one's contemporaries -- those who "knew you when". Not so in this case! All agree as to his outstanding character, extraordinary professional skill, and thorough dedication. During his 22 years with CIA as its first and only General Counsel, he has fully met the challenge of public service. I therefore consider it an honor and a privilege to present a man who has made a lasting contribution to the Central Intelligence Agency, and to our nation: Lawrence R. Houston.
